Conditions uneasy		Abilities & Actions Racial Traits: Unravelling When you take damage that would reduce your Blood to 0, your body involuntarily separates. You drop to 1 Blood instead of 0, but your parts scatter within 3m of your brain's last position. You gain Disoriented and Dazed until your core components are reassembled. Each reattachment costs a Half Action. ----- Rethreading A Stitched must spend time every 3 days maintaining their physical cohesion — resewing seams, reattaching loosened parts, and reinforcing the mana signature binding their composite soul together. This can be performed during any rest period given sufficient time and materials. - If a Stitched completes their Rethread on schedule, their maximum Sturdiness is maintained normally. - Each missed Rethread reduces maximum Sturdiness by 3. - Maximum Sturdiness is fully restored upon completing a successful Rethread. - If maximum Sturdiness reaches 0 through missed Rethreads, physical disintegration begins — a narrative event handled by the GM. ----- Racial Web: Hardened Seams Through deliberate reinforcement of your stitching and mana bindings, your composite form becomes more resistant to physical stress. Reduce the Sturdiness penalty from missed Rethreading by 1 — each missed Rethread reduces maximum Sturdiness by 2 instead of 3. ----- Resilient Threading Your stitching and mana bindings become significantly more robust. Missed Rethreading reduces maximum Sturdiness by 1 instead of 2. Additionally Rethreading can now be performed during any Short Rest given sufficient materials. ----- Seamless Maintenance Your mana signature has stabilised enough that Rethreading intervals extend to once per week rather than every 3 days. Additionally, Rethreading can now be completed during a Break rather than requiring a Short Rest. ----- Patchwork Form
